WHAT'S NEW AT KELTC?

KELTC is undergoing some changes under the new Team Lead, Alex Martinez. They are reorganizing teaching/testing materials, reorganizing class rooms, adding instructor name plates outside of each classroom, developing a tracking system for checking out teaching materials, and going over testing SOPs. The student numbers remain at 38. The instructors, Mr. Martinez, Mr. Kevill, Ms. Northcutt, Mr. Durbin, Dr. Najib, and Capt Mazza are pulling things together. They had a farewell BBQ for Mr. Durbin and Ms. Northcutt, which included lamb. The two are due to depart next week. There will be a shortened class schedule this month due to Ramazan, giving teachers more time to reorganize. All will report for inventory duty. KELTC may soon have Internet. It's still in progress, but there is hope.

ON THE GROUND AT KAF

Mr. Quick is diligently working to establish classes for the ALC in Kandahar. He is meeting the challenges of living where the focus is not a class room, but the battle. "Here, in Kandahar, there are no students. There is no NMAA or KMTC. There are only people who are away from their families, whether it be American or Afghans, and who are fighting a fight on the front line," wrote Mr. Quick. The days are long and the battle to educate is not easy.

Important Points:

- Robyn Powley on a 2 week R&R.
- Accountability is a serious issue. Respond quickly. We care about you.
- Keep up the good work!

GOOD NEWS AT MELTC

CSTC-A at Camp Morehead is in the process of building a testing center for use by Afghans and coalition forces. John Modlin and Julie Hill have been consulted on issues relating to security, room layout, and proctoring. This will be a welcome addition and will provide Afghans and coalition forces access to a variety of online courses and assessments. The students have been enjoying reading the great variety of books recently donated by MSG Weel's contacts in North Carolina. The books have also been useful in supplementing ALC material by adding interesting articles and even guided "story time" for those occasional drowsy afternoons. The student enrollment remains at 16, so the only thing changing is the weather. It has been beautiful.

GOOD NEWS AT CAMP EGGERS

T-1 JAYHAWK

Ramazan began today throughout Afghanistan, and coalition forces at Camp Eggers will be sensitive to the Afghans during their time of fasting. Classes will be adjusted and Afghan workers' schedules will be reduced.

Classes are taking shape at the Presidential Palace for Mr. John McCarthy. A new classroom is being built. In the meantime the class is being taught in the midst of construction. Flexibility is the key. Ms. Elana Dorsey taught her last class at IMA this week and will be turning all her duties over to Mr. McCarthy, who is up for the challenge.

MTT Chief, Robyn Powley, is getting some much needed R&R back home in Alabama. Changes are happening every day at Camp Eggers as the Language programs continue to grow. Dr. Faughnan is juggling a variety of meetings daily, yet he still maintains his sense of humor.

Maj Tim Cummins and 1LT Chase Scully are ready to be behind the stick of a T-1 Jayhawk, as they count down the days. Ms. Dorsey is right behind them in the count. Rohullah Niazi is helping to teach Dari and is making an impact in the Languages Branch.

CJ-7 Education Division anticipates the arrival of 2 new DLI members and 5 CEW team members at the end of August or the beginning of September.

Farewell Corner

We didn't have to say "Farewell" to anyone from our division this week.

I know that every good and excellent thing in the world stands moment by moment on the razor-edge of danger and must be fought for.

~Thornton Wilder~

CHECKING IN AT KMTC:

Darian Henderson is beginning to wind down as his tour will end in early September. He continues to be an instructor/mentor at KMTC. Graded readers have been provided by the British Council, which can be utilized by the Afghan students in relation to their course materials. The level of teaching is intense, but the students are trained to deal with pressure.

As a mentor, Mr. Henderson is instilling a sense of pride in the teaching abilities of the Afghan English teachers. They are all working hard to improve the future of their nation. COL Totakhil continues to demand the best of both teachers and students as the term moves on.

TEACHERS IN TRAINING...

The first IMI teacher training session has been completed by Ms. Lark Escobar. Teachers will be utilizing this skill in the coming fall.

Teacher training and instructor development has also been completed for the 2010 summer session. At the end of the training, Ms. Escobar had teachers answer the question: Why do we teach? and received the following answers.

- To stop the suffering.
- To make a future for our country.
- Because English is the key to success for influence and for business.
- Because when we learn something you MUST communicate it to others, it is selfish to keep it for yourself only.

- Education is like a candle, it lightens society- we must bring the light to the people.

A KELTC Afghan Student's Story:

A. H. Jehat

My life in the ANA I work from 0400 to 1900. Saturday through Thursday. But I go to the mess hall at 7 o'clock in the morning. Then I go to class and learn something about the map. After that I always meet with soldiers. I ask about any problems. Then I go to the lunch with friends. After lunch I sleep for one hour. Than I begin to have a schedule to work for 24 hours. I always work hard just I want to save people and my country. Long live Afghanistan. Long live the United States.

A Note to You.

If you have a story or photos you would like to share, please contact your site lead so they can include the information in the weekly action report. We want to hear from you. As always, it is important for us to keep OPSEC in mind. Encourage our Afghan partners as they celebrate Ramazan, and as always encourage your team members as they continue to give of themselves. Thank you all for your tireless efforts in support of Operation Enduring Freedom.
